F 394
.T4 T4
Copy 1

VIEWS OF TEXAS CITY

THE YOUNG GIANT OF SOUTHERN TEXAS

TEXAS CITY

Three years ago
practically unknown

TODAY ONE OF AMERICA'S GREATEST PORTS

F394
.I4T4

COPYRIGHT 1913
H. H. STRATTON
GALVESTON, TEXAS

JAN 3 1914

FOR THE PHOTOGRAPHS FROM WHICH THE PLATES USED IN THIS BOOK WERE MADE, WE ARE LARGELY INDEBTED TO HIGBY'S STUDIO OF TEXAS CITY.

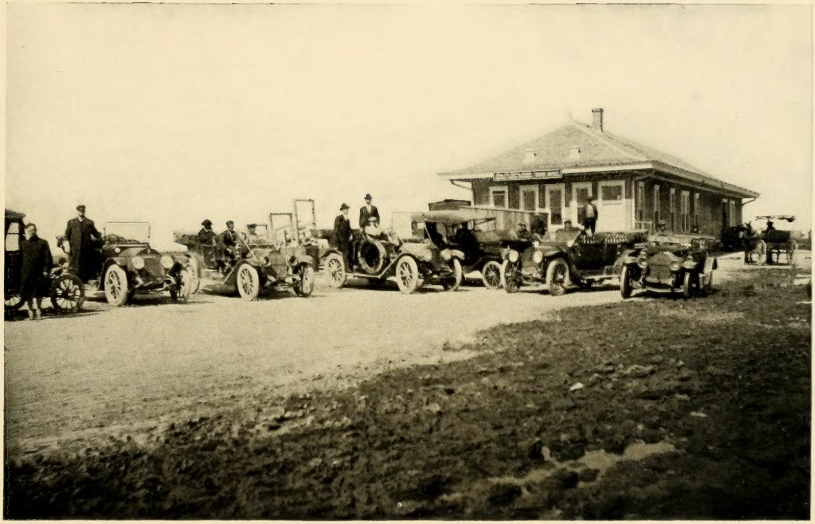
©CLA360581

Scene on 9th Avenue, Texas City

Warehouse Wharves, Texas City

New Fireproof Pier, where the largest vessels are loaded for all ports of the world

McIlvaine Building



Station of Texas City Terminal Co. Autos waiting for passengers

Lieut. Milling and Lieut. Sherman of the Aviation Corps. U. S. Army, landing in Texas City after a record breaking trip. Copyright 1913 Higby's Studio.

House cleaning day in the Second Division of the U. S. Army stationed at Texas City

Ice and Cold Storage Plant

Pierce-Fordyce Million Dollar Oil Refinery

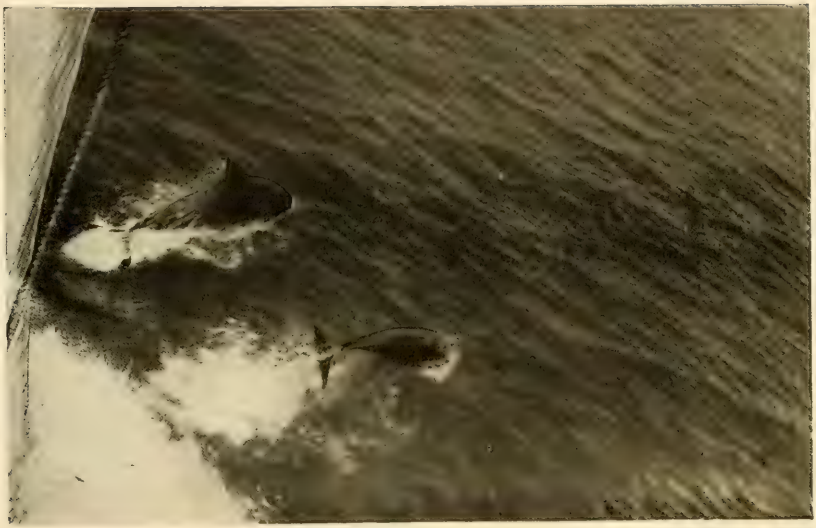
Higby's Studio and stock house with a few of the employees. Your picture taken while you wait

Sixth Street looking north

Hourly passenger boat from Galveston, landing at Texas City

When Texas City gets as large as New York all its happy maidens, together with their sweethearts, brothers, sisters, aunts and uncles, could go bathing on its spacious Beach and still there would be room for more. Copyright 1913 H. H. S.

One of the up-to-date barber shops of Texas City. Stylish hair cuts a specialty



A Texas City harbor scene

Residence of Major General Carter, commanding Second Division U. S. Army

Residence of C. D. Gustavus

Home of the Texas City Times, the enterprising sheet that daily chronicles the stirring events in the future metropolis of Texas

The Guaranty State Bank

Texas City School Building

Board of Trade Building

Review of the Second Battalion U. S. Engineers stationed at Texas City

Camp of the Fourth Artillery stationed at Texas City

New arrivals disembarking at Texas City

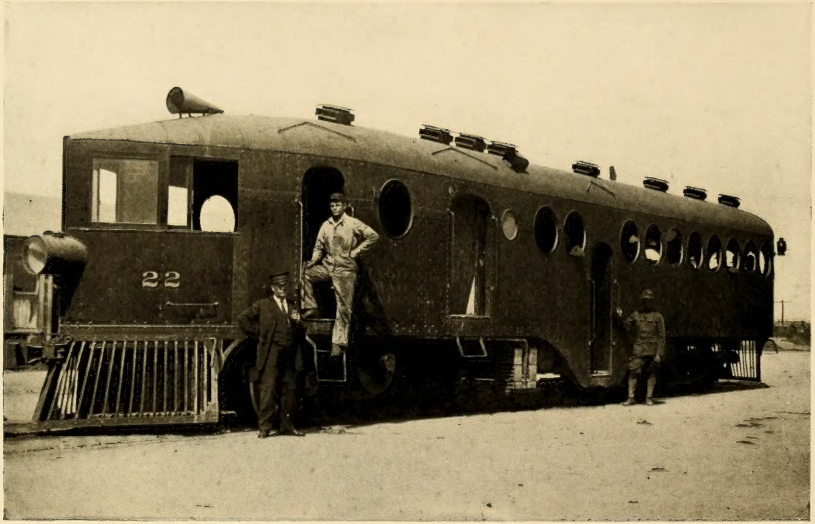
Flock of Texas Sheep led by a couple of Texas City Goats

No better Pumpkin Pies are made than those found at the Hotels and Restaurants of Texas City

Within five years Texas City is expected to become the largest cotton port in the world

Waltzing on the Beach

Serf Bathing, Texas City



Car of Texas City Terminal Co.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
0 014 495 541 9